Gary Wampler, Senior Director of the FVRR is excited to announce the cost is nearly the same as the 2009 trip. "When details are set, information about this trip will be sent to students and parents with the cost and deadlines. The date of the optional trip is April 1, 2013 (no joke) which is Monday after Easter this time. Use FVRR Scrip and fundraisers to help with the cost... start planning now."

FVRR to Announce New Google website Calendar

3:23pm January 27, 2012 (Wampler)

FVRR today announced that it plans to launch a new website calendar using Google as its operating system on Thursday, February 9, 2012. Gary Wampler, Senior Director of the FVRR is pleased with this new system and its many possibilities in communication to the FVRR parents and students. Not only will this system have ensemble color codes, it can be linked to event maps and to your own smart phone for quick reference. Once Mark Irons, Director of the FVRR, refines and approves this system, it will be launched onto our FVRR website under "Calendar" replacing the older system. Keri Gaydos, FVRR Head Chaperone, stated today it will make it much easier to connect the FVRR schedule to her own family schedule using her phone and home computer. Plans will be made for easy training for this system if anyone needs help with its use.

FVRR to launch a new button on the FVRR website: FVRR News

2:17pm January 26, 2012 (Wampler)

The intent of the "FVRR News" is to announce news to members similar to business news models where a company states news to its employees and stock holders as the company evolves. This "FVRR News" will advertise FVRR improvements and additions to the previous FVRR systems and procedures. This is not the same as the Directors Message, which is "information" about upcoming events, reminders, and changes as they occur year after year. The Directors Message is published every two months or as needed based on the intensity of a program or season. The FVRR News is expected to launch on or before February 3, 2012. The news stream will also begin this January 26, 2012.
